

Mary Curtis Davey, a distinguished Californian and the conscience of our community, who died October 2, 2010. Throughout her life, Mary was a consummate community activist and advocate whose tremendous accomplishments remind us of the difference one person can make.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Mary attended Smith College and graduated with degrees in English and government. She met and married Jack Davey, a Korean War veteran, and moved to Baltimore, where she first became involved in fighting housing discrimination. After moving to Los Altos Hills in 1961, Mary brought her compassion and intensity of purpose to the Peninsula, making her mark almost immediately. She became Mayor of Los Altos Hills in 1966, where her fair housing advocacy caused her to be recalled from the City Council. Unfazed, Mary continued to fight vigorously for equity and opportunity through countless community channels.

Among her many invaluable roles, Mary served as the Director of Midpeninsula Citizens for Fair Housing, CEO of Santa Clara County Advocates for Women, Interim Executive Director of the Palo Alto Red Cross, Board Member of Hidden Villa, and Co-Founder of the Midpeninsula Regional Open Space District, which was one of her proudest accomplishments. But even the stunning 56,000 acres couldn't contain Mary's boundless enthusiasm and dedication . . . she was truly a local force of nature, a civic superwoman of remarkable poise and power.

When Mary was honored with the Josephine and Frank Duveneck Humanitarian Award in 2001, I was privileged to pay tribute to her in Congress. I said then that "Mary Curtis Davey was "an exceptional voice and advocate for improving the quality of life in our community" and an extraordinary woman who "dedicated her life to making the San Mateo Peninsula a more humane, beautiful and healthy place." She continued her commitment to community right up until the day she died.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in extending our deepest condolences to Mary Davey's husband, Jack; her children, Kit, John, and Curtis; and her grandchildren, John, Devon, Christopher, and Callan. The Reverend Carl Frederick Buechner writes that vocation is "where your deep gladness and the world's deep hunger meet." Few people better embody this intersection than Mary. For 80 years she applied her own inimitable talents to the concerns of her community, raising our spirits and feeding our souls. Her extraordinary environmental and humanitarian contributions have enriched the Bay Area in countless ways, and will live on in the open spaces, fair housing, and social services she championed. I consider myself blessed to have been her friend and her Representative and I ask the entire House of Representatives to join me in honoring the life of this singularly exceptional woman who strengthened her community and her country with unparalleled contributions.

TRIBUTE TO CARLA WARRICK

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, December 1, 2010

Mr. LATHAM. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the retirement of Carla Warrick, library technician at the Ericson Public Library in Boone, Iowa after 37 years of service. I would like to express my appreciation for her devotion to literature and spreading the joy of reading to members of her community.

Although she was first hired at the library as a secretary, her job gradually changed to administrative assistant and then to library technician. Her duties expanded over the years, and she saw many changes both in the technology that the library utilized and in the building itself. While she enjoyed being surrounded by the books that she loved, it was meeting and interacting with the people—both her coworkers and the patrons—that Carla loved the most. Her experience and knowledge will certainly be missed.

I commend Carla Warrick for her commitment to literature, her career, and members of her community. It is an honor to represent her in Congress, and I wish her only joy and happiness in her retirement.
